CareWell Charitable Society Provides Free Eye Glasses to School Children with Vision Impairment:

PATNA, INDIA; July 1, 2009: CareWell Charitable Society distributed free eye glasses to students of the Government Girls and Boys Middle School, Amla Tola in Patna, India.

More than 1100 of the school students had been screened earlier for vision and hearing problems during CareWell's 'vision and hearing screening camp.' Parents, teacher and students present at the occasion appreciated CareWell's philanthropic works and school vision screening and treatment programs, and requested CareWell to expand this program to other schools in the region that would benefit thousands of students coming from families with limited resources.

Vision screening and treatment programs conducted at Government Girls and Boys Middle School, Amla Tola is one of a series of "screening and treatment camps" organized by CareWell at various schools in Bihar and Delhi where lower income students attend school. "It is our hope that students with vision problems will benefit immensely from this initiative of CareWell and will be able to improve their school performance, helping them to become productive members of the society," said Dr. Prasad, President and CEO of CareWell Charitable Society.
